6. Key Risks

Specific Risks of the Fund

Country Risk

The investment of the Fund may be affected by risk specific to the country in which it invests in. Such risks include changes in a country's economic, social and political environment. The value of the assets of the Fund may also be affected by uncertainties such as currency repatriation restrictions or other developments in the law or regulations of the country in which the Fund invest in, i.e. Singapore, the domicile country of the Target Fund

Concentration Risk

As the Fund invests at least 90% of its NAV in the Target Fund, it is subject to concentration risk as the performance of the Fund would be dependent on the performance of the Target Fund.

Investment Manager Risk

The Fund will invest in the Target Fund managed by a foreign asset management company. This risk refers to the risk associated with the Investment Manager, which include:

- i) the risk of non-adherence to the investment objective, strategy and policies of the Target Fund;
- ii) the risk of direct or indirect losses resulting from inadequate or failed operational and administrative processes and systems by the Investment Manager; and
- iii) the risk that the Target Fund may underperform its benchmark due to poor investment decisions by the Investment Manager.

Default Risk

Default risk relates to the risk that an issuer of a money market instrument either defaulting on payments or failing to make payments in a timely manner which will in turn adversely affect the value of the money market instruments. This could affect the value of the Fund as up to 10% of the NAV of the Fund will be invested in liquid assets which include but are not limited to fixed deposits and money market instruments.

OTC Counterparty Risk

OTC counterparty risk is the risk associated with the other party to an OTC derivative transaction not meeting its obligations. If the counterparty to the OTC derivative transaction is unable to meet or otherwise defaults on its obligations (for example, due to bankruptcy or other financial difficulties), the Fund may be exposed to significant losses greater than the cost of the derivatives. The risk of default of a counterparty is directly linked to the creditworthiness of that counterparty. Should there be a downgrade in the credit rating of the OTC derivatives' counterparty, the Manager will evaluate the situation and reassess the creditworthiness of the counterparty. The Manager will take the necessary steps in the best interest of the Fund.

Currency Risk

As the base currency of the Fund ("Base Currency") is denominated in MYR and the investments of the Fund in the Target Fund is denominated in SGD, the Fund is exposed to currency risk. Any fluctuation in the exchange rates between MYR and SGD will affect the value of the Fund's investments. Unit holders should be aware that if the currencies in which the Fund's investments are denominated depreciate against the Base Currency, this will have an adverse effect on the NAV of the Fund in the Base Currency and vice versa. Unit holders should note that any gains or losses arising from the fluctuation in the exchange rate may further increase or decrease the returns of the investment.

As the Base Currency is denominated in MYR and the currency denomination of the classes may be denominated in other than MYR, the classes not denominated in MYR are also exposed to currency risk. Any fluctuation in the exchange rates between MYR and the currency denomination of the class (other than MYR Class) will affect the unit holder's investments in those classes (other than MYR Class). The impact of the exchange rate movement between the Base Currency and the currency denomination of the class (other than MYR Class) may result in a depreciation of the unit holder's holdings as expressed in the Base Currency.

In order to manage currency risk, the Manager may employ currency hedging strategies to fully or partially hedge the foreign currency exposure of the Fund's investments and the classes not denominated in MYR. However, every hedge comes with a cost and will be borne by the respective class.

Currency hedging may reduce the effect of the exchange rate movement for the class being hedged but it does not entirely eliminate currency risk between the class and the Base Currency. The unhedged portion of the class will still be affected by the exchange rate movements and it may cause fluctuation of the NAV of the class. You should note that if the exchange rate moves favourably, the class will not benefit from any upside in currency movement due to the hedging strategy. In addition, hedging is subject to a minimum size of entering into a hedging contract and the cost of hedging may affect the returns of the hedged class.

Please also refer to Section 14 of the prospectus for further details on the "currency risk" of the Target Fund.

Investors are reminded that the risks listed above may not be exhaustive and if necessary, they should consult their adviser(s), e.g. bankers, lawyers, stockbrokers or independent professional advisers for a better understanding of the risks.

For more details, please refer to section 3.1 and section 14 in the prospectus for the general and specific risks of investing in the Fund and the specific risks of the Target Fund.

Note: If your investments are made through an institutional unit trust adviser ("Distributor") which adopts the nominee system of ownership, you would not be deemed to be a unit holder under the deed and as a result, your rights as an investor may be limited. Accordingly, the Manager will only recognize the Distributor as a unit holder of the Fund and the Distributor shall be entitled to all the rights conferred to it under the deed.

7. Valuation of Investment

The Fund is valued once every business day after the close of the market in which the portfolio of the Fund is invested for the relevant day but not later than the end of the next business day.
